

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA
MEL & ENID ZUCKERMAN COLLEGE OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Environment, Exposure Science & Risk Assessment Center

People are exposed to health hazards every day through the air they breathe, the water and food they consume, and other contacts with the environment and consumer products. More research is needed to determine how these exposures relate to human health outcomes. Your gift helps drive the vital research we do.

ESRAC was developed to bridge the chasm between researchers and sponsors with the common goal of improving health and reducing risk.
